At Pillsbury, I worked on 2 significant asbestos mass tort Chapter 11 cases and a cross-border restructuring of the Brazilian airline, Varig, S.A.

From March 2007 to March 2015, I was a bankruptcy attorney at the New York City bankruptcy boutique law firm, Togut, Segal & Segal LLP, where I worked on over 30 bankruptcy cases, including some of the largest and most complex bankruptcy cases ever filed, including: In re FL 6801 Spirits (a Lehman affiliate), Dewey & LeBoeuf LLP, American Airlines, General Motors Corporation, Chrysler LLC, Nortel Networks, Inc., Grubb & Ellis Company, Loehmann's Holdings, Inc., Delphi Corporation, Tower Automotive, Solutia, Inc., AbitibiBowater Group, Inc. and Fortunoff Fine Jewelry.

As of March 2015, I am a senior legal editor at Practical Law Company (Thomson Reuters) where I write and edit bankruptcy resources for lawyers.

IV. General pertinent experience:

I have been involved in several mediations as counsel to a party in the mediation and was counsel to the mediator in a complex post-confirmation bankruptcy dispute in the Solutia case.

I am a member of the Alternative Dispute Resolution Committee of the New York City Bar Association (2014-2017 term).

V. Mediation training:

In March 2015, I completed a 26.5 hour mediation training at the New York City Bar Association with Columbia Law School Professor Carol B. Liebman and Dina Jansenson of JAMS as lead trainers.

VI. Pertinent bankruptcy training:

I have taken hundreds of hours of continuing legal education on bankruptcy topics at the New York City Bar and the American Bankruptcy Institute.

I graduated from Brooklyn Law School magna cum laude in May 2001 with a concentration in debtor & creditor rights and Chapter 11 restructuring law.

VII. General pertinent business or legal experience:

Before and while attending law school, I worked in retail management both in department stores and in their buying offices. This experience affords me a unique business perspective.

I have a strong commitment to pro bono matters and am opening to mediating disputes on behalf of pro se litigants on a pro bono basis. I am proficient in Spanish.
